DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgment is made of the receipt of the amendment received on 7/17/03. Claims 76-79 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 76-78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pieterse (US 6,088,127).

Pieterse teaches a method of reducing a cost of transmitting data from a mobile data collection terminal to a remote host over a communication network having a plurality of channels including a wireless channel, comprising the steps of:

determining a location of the terminal relative to the host;

determining the cost of transmitting the data from the location of the terminal over each channel to the host;

selecting the channel for data transmission based on the location of the terminal and the cost determined to be least; and transmitting the data from the terminal to the host over the channel selected with the least cost (col. 8, line 55-col. 9, line 7);

the step of determining a priority for the data, wherein the selecting step is also based on the priority of the data (col. 8, lines 35-48); and the step of recording an image using an image capture device (fax machine 21) in the terminal, and wherein the transmitting step includes transmitting the image (col. 6, line 59-col. 7, line 10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 79 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pieterse in view of Wang et al. (US 5,490,217) (hereinafter referred to as 'Wang').

The teachings of Pieterse have been discussed above.

Pieterse lacks the teaching of the image being a bar code symbol.

Wang teaches transmitting a bar code (col. 4, lines 3-12).

One of ordinary skill in the art would have readily recognized that a bar code image is one of a plethora of image which may be transmitted to a remote location for the purpose of conveying information to another source. Therefore, it would have been obvious, at the time the invention was made, to modify the teachings of Pieterse with the transmission of a bar code as taught by Wang convey information.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 76-79 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Nishizaki (JP Appl. No. JP05236398) teaches facsimile equipment using a communication line at a low cost exactly by measuring a size of an original, the number of original sheets and an information quantity and calculating a communication charge based on the information and information such as a transmission time, and a distance to a transmission destination.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
